Field Visit Report

Title of program	Visit to Water purification plant
Objectives of program	To show medical students how water is purified on large scale before supplying to city
Date of program	30/8/22
Venue	Rajura, Tapovan Mardi Road ,Amravati
Teacher Incharge of visit	Dr Vinita Nistane
Brief description	Visit to water purification plant was organized by department of Community Medicine on 30/8/2022. This plant is situated at Rajura, Tapovan Mardi road Amravati. Mr. Parab explained well about the structure and working of the water purification plant. He explained that the goal of water treatment is to remove existing contaminants in the water, or reduce the concentration of such contaminants so that water becomes fit for its desired end-user. The process involved in treating water is solids separation using physical process and chemical process. Before the water is distributed into the public houses, the water has to undergo the water treatment process such as :- <ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Coagulation is the removal of turbidity from the water. •Flocculation is mixing process in which particles are brought into contact in order to promote their agglomeration •Sedimentation is to remove suspended material from water by the action of gravity. •Filtration is to remove suspended particles from water by passing the water through medium such as sand. •Disinfection is to destroy pathogens within a practicable period of time. • Water distribution is to satisfy the water requirements for a combination of domestic, commercial, industrial and fire-fighting purposes. After water passes or flowing through all distinctive features, it's collected into water tank and ready to be supply to houses area.

Field Visit Report

Title of program	Visit to Disaster Management Cell
Objectives of program	To teach students disaster prevention, disaster preparedness, response, recovery
Date of program	8/9/2022
Venue	SRPF colony Amravati
Teacher Incharge of visit	Dr. Vinita Nistane
Brief description	Visit to disaster management office was organised by the department of community medicine on 8/9/22. During the visit, the students were given an overview of the structure and functioning of the Disaster Management Office. They learned about the various departments responsible for different aspects of disaster management, such as planning, coordination, logistics, and public information. The students learned about the importance of training and exercises in disaster preparedness. They were shown simulation rooms where emergency scenarios were recreated for training purposes. They also had the chance to participate in a tabletop exercise, which involved discussing and strategizing responses to hypothetical disaster scenarios. Overall, the visit to the Disaster Management Office was a success, enabling the medical students to expand their horizons and develop a deeper appreciation for the importance of disaster management in healthcare. It served as a foundation for their future endeavors in contributing to community resilience during emergencies.

Field Visit Report

Title of program	Visit to Water purification plant
Objectives of program	To show medical students how water is purified on large scale before supplying to city
Date of program	27/9/22
Venue	Rajura, Tapovan Mardi Road ,Amravati
Teacher Incharge of visit	Dr Vinita Nistane
Brief description	Visit to water purification plant was organized by department of Community Medicine on 27/9/2022. This plant is situated at Rajura, Tapovan Mardi road Amravati. Mr. Parab explained well about the structure and working of the water purification plant. He explained that the goal of water treatment is to remove existing contaminants in the water, or reduce the concentration of such contaminants so that water becomes fit for its desired end-user. The process involved in treating water is solids separation using physical process and chemical process. Before the water is distributed into the public houses, the water has to undergo the water treatment process such as : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Coagulation is the removal of turbidity from the water. • Flocculation is mixing process in which particles are brought into contact in order to promote their agglomeration • Sedimentation is to remove suspended material from water by the action of gravity. • Filtration is to remove suspended particles from water by passing the water through medium such as sand. • Disinfection is to destroy pathogens within a practicable period of time. • Water distribution is to satisfy the water requirements for a combination of domestic, commercial, industrial and fire-fighting purposes. After water passes or flowing through all distinctive features, it's collected into water tank and ready to be supply to houses area.

Field Visit Report

Title of program	Visit to Disaster Management Cell
Objectives of program	To teach students disaster prevention, disaster preparedness, response, recovery
Date of program	6/10/2022
Venue	SRPF colony Amravati
Teacher Incharge of visit	Dr.Vinita Nistane
Brief description	Visit to disaster management office was organised by the department of community medicine on 6/10/22. During the visit, the students were given an overview of the structure and functioning of the Disaster Management Office. They learned about the various departments responsible for different aspects of disaster management, such as planning, coordination, logistics, and public information. The students learned about the importance of training and exercises in disaster preparedness. They were shown simulation rooms where emergency scenarios were recreated for training purposes. They also had the chance to participate in a tabletop exercise, which involved discussing and strategizing responses to hypothetical disaster scenarios. Overall, the visit to the Disaster Management Office was a success, enabling the medical students to expand their horizons and develop a deeper appreciation for the importance of disaster management in healthcare. It served as a foundation for their future endeavors in contributing to community resilience during emergencies.

Field Visit Report

Title of program	Visit to Water purification plant
Objectives of program	To show medical students how water is purified on large scale before supplying to city
Date of program	27/10/22
Venue	Rajura, Tapovan Mardi Road ,Amravati
Teacher Incharge of visit	Dr Vinita Nistane
Brief description	Visit to water purification plant was organized by department of Community Medicine on 27/10/2022. This plant is situated at Rajura, Tapovan Mardi road Amravati. Mr. Parab explained well about the structure and working of the water purification plant. He explained that the goal of water treatment is to remove existing contaminants in the water, or reduce the concentration of such contaminants so that water becomes fit for its desired end-user. The process involved in treating water is solids separation using physical process and chemical process. Before the water is distributed into the public houses, the water has to undergo the water treatment process such as :- <ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Coagulation is the removal of turbidity from the water. •Flocculation is mixing process in which particles are brought into contact in order to promote their agglomeration •Sedimentation is to remove suspended material from water by the action of gravity. •Filtration is to remove suspended particles from water by passing the water through medium such as sand. •Disinfection is to destroy pathogens within a practicable period of time. • Water distribution is to satisfy the water requirements for a combination of domestic, commercial, industrial and fire-fighting purposes. After water passes or flowing through all distinctive features, it's collected into water tank and ready to be supply to houses area.

Teacher Incharge of visit	Dr Vinita Nistane
Brief description	Visit to water purification plant was organized by department of Community Medicine on 22/11/22 . This plant is situated at Rajura, Tapovan Mardi road Amravati. Mr. Parab explained well about the structure and working of the water purification plant. He explained that the goal of water treatment is to remove existing contaminants in the water, or reduce the concentration of such contaminants so that water becomes fit for its desired end-user. The process involved in treating water is solids separation using physical process and chemical process. Before the water is distributed into the public houses, the water has to undergo the water treatment process such as : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Coagulation is the removal of turbidity from the water. •Flocculation is mixing process in which particles are brought into contact in order to promote their agglomeration •Sedimentation is to remove suspended material from water by the action of gravity. •Filtration is to remove suspended particles from water by passing the water through medium such as sand. •Disinfection is to destroy pathogens within a practicable period of time. • Water distribution is to satisfy the water requirements for a combination of domestic, commercial, industrial and fire-fighting purposes. After water passes or flowing through all distinctive features, it's collected into water tank and ready to be supply to houses area.

Field Visit Report

Title of program	Visit to Disaster Management Cell
Objectives of program	To teach students disaster prevention, disaster preparedness, response, recovery
Date of program	30/11/22
Venue	SRPF colony Amravati
Teacher Incharge of visit	Dr.Vinita Nistane
Brief description	Visit to disaster management office was organised by the department of community medicine on 30/11/22. During the visit, the students were given an overview of the structure and functioning of the Disaster Management Office. They learned about the various departments responsible for different aspects of disaster management, such as planning, coordination, logistics, and public information. The students learned about the importance of training and exercises in disaster preparedness. They were shown simulation rooms where emergency scenarios were recreated for training purposes. They also had the chance to participate in a tabletop exercise, which involved discussing and strategizing responses to hypothetical disaster scenarios. Overall, the visit to the Disaster Management Office was a success, enabling the medical students to expand their horizons and develop a deeper appreciation for the importance of disaster management in healthcare. It served as a foundation for their future endeavors in contributing to community resilience during emergencies.

Field Visit Report

Title of program	Visit to Water purification plant
Objectives of program	To show medical students how water is purified on large scale before supplying to city
Date of program	7/6/23
Venue	Rajura, Tapovan Mardi Road, Amravati
Teacher Incharge of visit	Dr Vinita Nistane
Brief description	Visit to water purification plant was organized by department of Community Medicine on 7/6/23. This plant is situated at Rajura, Tapovan Mardi road Amravati. Mr. Parab explained well about the structure and working of the water purification plant. He explained that the goal of water treatment is to remove existing contaminants in the water, or reduce the concentration of such contaminants so that water becomes fit for its desired end-user. The process involved in treating water is solids separation using physical process and chemical process. Before the water is distributed into the public houses, the water has to undergo the water treatment process such as :- <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Coagulation is the removal of turbidity from the water. • Flocculation is mixing process in which particles are brought into contact in order to promote their agglomeration • Sedimentation is to remove suspended material from water by the action of gravity. • Filtration is to remove suspended particles from water by passing the water through medium such as sand. • Disinfection is to destroy pathogens within a practicable period of time. • Water distribution is to satisfy the water requirements for a combination of domestic, commercial, industrial and fire-fighting purposes. After water passes or flowing through all distinctive features, it's collected into water tank and ready to be supply to houses area.

He explained that the goal of water treatment is to remove existing contaminants in the water, or reduce the concentration of such contaminants so that water becomes fit for its desired end-user. The process involved in treating water is solids separation using physical process and chemical process. Before the water is distributed into the public houses, the water has to undergo the water treatment process such as :- <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Coagulation is the removal of turbidity from the water. • Flocculation is mixing process in which particles are brought into contact in order to promote their agglomeration • Sedimentation is to remove suspended material from water by the action of gravity. • Filtration is to remove suspended particles from water by passing the water through medium such as sand. • Disinfection is to destroy pathogens within a practicable period of time. • Water distribution is to satisfy the water requirements for a combination of domestic, commercial, industrial and fire-fighting purposes. After water passes or flowing through all distinctive features, it's collected into water tank and ready to be supply to houses area.

Subject – Guidelines for District Residency Program training for students of post graduate Medical Degree (MD/MS) courses in all Medical colleges in Maharashtra state.

Reference – 1.National Medical Commission, New Delhi dated 16/02/2020 notification.
2. Department of Medical Education and Medicine Government decision No. MED1021/P.No.133/21/Education-2 dated- 23/08/2021.

Sir,

Department of Medical Education and Medicines vide Govt. decision no.MED1021/O.No.133/2/Education-2 dated 23/08/2021 vide notification dated 16/09/2020 of National Medical Commission , New Delhi from the academic year 2021-2022 and onwards students admitted to the post graduate medical degree (MD/MS) courses across the country will undergo a three months District Residency Program (By rotation) in District Hospital as part of their post- graduate curriculum in the third, fourth and fifth semesters of their courses. District Residency Program has made it mandatory to take this training.

The following guidelines are given for the said training.

1. The actual implementation of the District Residency Program should be started from 1st May 2023.
2. The Principal of all medical colleges and post graduate institutions in the state have the number of post graduate students in their institutions as directed by the District Civil Surgeon up to 28.02.2023 should be informed so that the concerned District Civil

- Surgeon can make arrangements for accommodation and travel for District Residency Program.
3. The Principals of all Medical Colleges and Post Graduate Institutions in the state should prepare 4/6 batches of third semester postgraduate students and assign them to District Civil Surgeon every 3 months in a phased manner so as not to disturb the daily hospital work in their institutions. e.g. If there are 100 Postgraduate students in a college, four batches of 25-25 students such as A,B,C,D should be made. 'A' batch of 25 students to be sent for training in District Hospital under District Residential Program from 1st May 2023 to 31st July 2023. Thereafter 'B' batch of 25 students should be sent for training for District Hospital under District Residential Program from 1st August 2023 to 31st October 2023. Thereafter 'C' batch of 25 students should be sent for training for District Hospital under District Residential Program from 1st November 2023 to 31st January 2024. Thereafter 'D' batch of 25 students will be sent to District Hospital under District Residential Program from 1st February 2024 to 30th April 2024 for training.
 4. Duties & Responsibilities of Post Graduate students while undergoing training in District Hospital under District Residential Program will be as follows-
(vi) Training and Responsibilities of District Residents:-
 - a. Clinical Specialties – During this rotation, the District Resident will be posted with the concerned/aligned team/unit at the District Hospital, and will be trained under the overall guidance of the District Specialists. The District Resident will work under the overall directions and supervision of the District Residency Program Coordinator (DRPC). The clinical responsibilities assigned to the Resident would include serving in outpatient, inpatient, casualty and other areas and encompass night duties.
 - b. Pre- and Para-Clinical Specialties – Postgraduate students of pre/Para clinical disciplines (namely, Anatomy, Biochemistry, Community Medicine, Forensic Medicine, Microbiology, Pathology, Physiology and Pharmacology) will be trained by the District Hospital and Health System teams within the available avenues in coordination with the District Health Officer/Chief Medical Officer. They would be trained in and contribute to the diagnostic/laboratories service, pharmacy service, forensic services, general clinical duties, managerial roles and public health programmes etc., as applicable.
 5. Salary and allowances of postgraduate student while undergoing training in district hospital under district residency program should be paid by their home Medical College.
 6. Post Graduate students will be allowed one holiday per week by rotation while undergoing training District Hospital under the District Residency Program and other holidays as per university rule.
 7. Medical Post Graduate students while undergoing training in District Hospital under the District Residency Program college faculty will guide through phone / e-communication. Resident of said one academic cell should be established in each college for the coordination of the program.
 8. Accommodation of post graduate students while undergoing training in District Hospital under the District Residency Program and travel from accommodation to hospital will be arranged through District Surgeons.
 9. Daily attendance supervision of Postgraduate students while undergoing training in District Hospital under the District Residency Program will be done by District civil Surgeons.

10. After completing three months of training in the District Hospital under the District Residency Program. The District civil Surgeon will issue a certificate of completion of training along with a satisfactory performance report.
11. Postgraduate students of the University without completing the three months District Residential Program training will not be eligible for examination.

Family Adoption program

Activity Report

Family Adoption Programme (FAP) aims to provide an experiential learning opportunity to Indian medical graduates towards community-based health care

FAP is recommended as a part of curriculum of Community Medicine subject and begins from first professional year with competencies being spread in ascending manner for entire MBBS training program.

Each student is allotted five families from urban slum under UHTC and he/she has to follow them up to internship

During the visit, students interacted with the family and details were documented, and then the students were made to present their families in the power point presentation with their reflective experience of the first family adoption programme visit.

List of students with allotted families is attached
