What does it mean to be a 'Doctor'?

'Doctor' this word is derived from Latin origin which means (to - Teach) also to guide or help the needy. It is a profession which is enormously burdened but highly honoured.

To be a doctor is not only a job of responsibilities but a job of satisfaction. The happy and satisfied faces of humans when one saves their life or gets them out of danger is worth it.

Being a doctor is like getting super-powers to heal the living but sometimes it is not a cake-walk. While there is a flower of Rose it also possesses sharp thorns likewise. There are various people who fake to be a doctor and puts an innocent living to danger, they are not skilled, they don't know how to treat diseases or prevent. The only thing they know is how to misuse the powers just to earn money. After the deathly diseases on earth money is the

Before being a good doctor one must be a good human. A doctor should not only be informative about the sufferings of people clinically but also emotionally.

There are very few doctors in rural areas, also during Pandemic it was found that there is a highly difference in the ratio of doctors & people in India. Doctors was the first need of every single person during that time. Also the doctors did their level best to treat the patients to protect them from this deadly virus. Doctors are not less than Soldiers on the Border.

In cities like Mumbai, Delhi, Pune etc the youth which are graduating in Medical line choose to migrate abroad & serve the people in other countries just to get a better lifestyle & also Money. If everyone lived with such mindset the future of India is in danger. There might be scarcity of doctors in this nation. To be a doctor is a selfless profession as seen in last few decades the most noble Personality

Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam served this nation so selflessly.

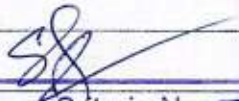

A doctor should work for the betterment of our country. Sometimes the doctors are underestimated. People expect everything from a doctor. There are situations in which after trying the level best a doctor faces their annoy on doctors while always

There are two sides of a coin while the people are sympathised everytime. The doctors are to be given equal chance to prove their side. The time one chooses to be a doctor approximately at the age of 18/19 that is the period one chooses to sacrifice their social life and devote their life to help others. The hectic schedule, the pressure of exams, the stress of learning is all what a person goes through before being adjectified as doctors.

Doctors are considered next to god but one should not forget they are human beings too. There is an equal responsibility of patients & doctors to give respect to each other.

HUMAN...!! The most populated and developed being on the planet Earth. We humans are greatly evolved, civilized, and socialized in all the spectrums of life. In the same way, we are developed in medical and scientific field as well. Humans being self-conscious are aware of the importance of self health and care. So DOCTORS, a particular expert in the field of medicine takes the responsibility of the health and hygiene of society.

In this technologically developed planet, we are exposed to various pathogen, etc which affect the health of humans as well as other animals. So a DOCTOR is very important to guide us about our health and various diseases. DOCTOR plays many important roles in society, he is a advisor, planner, medical expert, Healer, a team leader.

Being a DOCTOR is not an easy job Doctor is a considered to be a really noble profession as he saves the life of other people and ensures compassion and sacrifice, we has to be dedicated, and focused towards his job through out his life. Starting from getting into a medical college and studying for the professional course needs more focus and determination, we have to be skilled and dextrous.

The main ideology of a Doctor is to "Save People's Life": They live to serve the medical facilities to people. Their first priority has to be the Patient's life. Keeping our personal life aside and working 24/7 for people is not a easy thing to do.

A Doctor needs various qualities in him. Doctor should be a good communicator; he should be able to convey with patients properly. He needs to give time to each and every patient without discriminating on financial status or religion. Doctor needs a good leadership qualities. A doctor never works alone, he has a group of members like nurses, compounders, assistant doctors, interns, etc working with him, so he need to guide them and work together.

A Doctor needs Patient along with Patience. Being calm and stressfree will help doctor take accurate and fast decisions in immergency situation while talking to Patient and his family doctor should calmly and confidently convey the correct information to them. Patient should not feel rushed or ignored by the doctor. He should approach diffrently because each human is

The most important quality the Doctor needs is Empathy. He should feel the pain of the patient approaching him. He should get in the patient's shoe before treating him. This will even comfort the patient emotionally and the doctor will connect with the patient as well.

The Doctor has to be a life long learner. with advancement in the scientific and medical field. which will help the doctor to serve the advanced treatment.

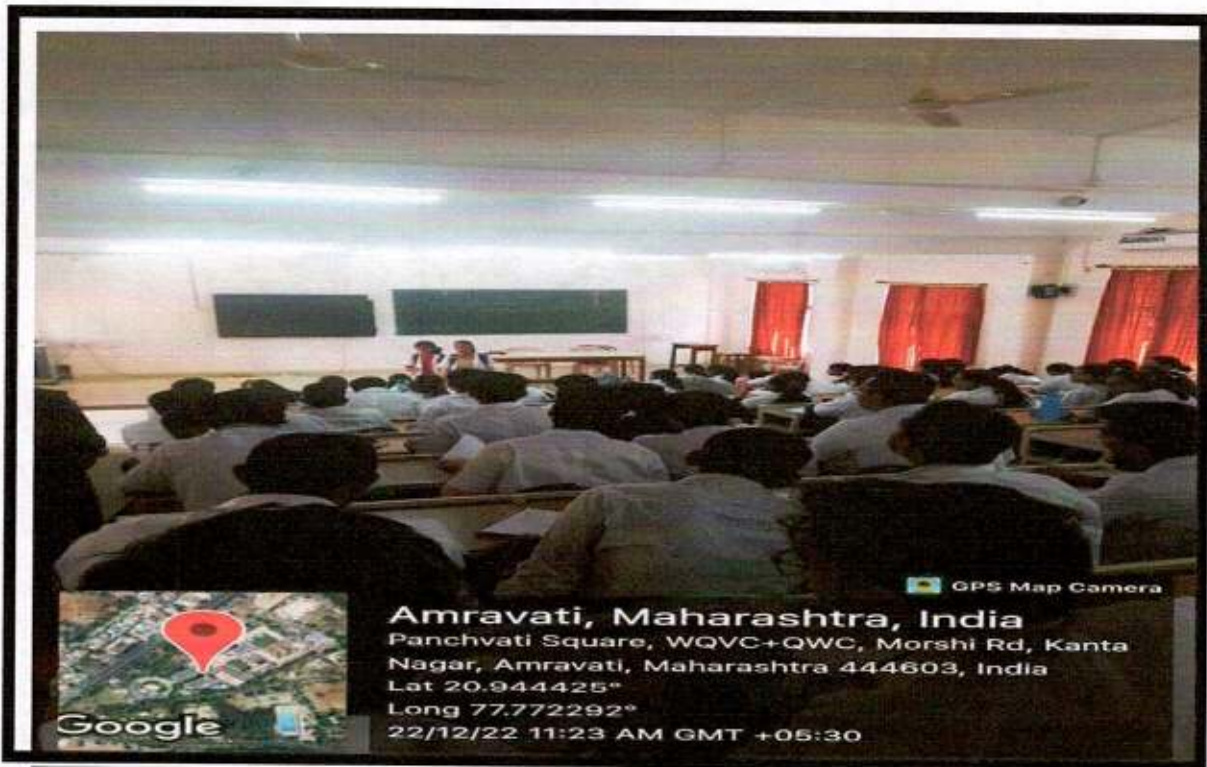

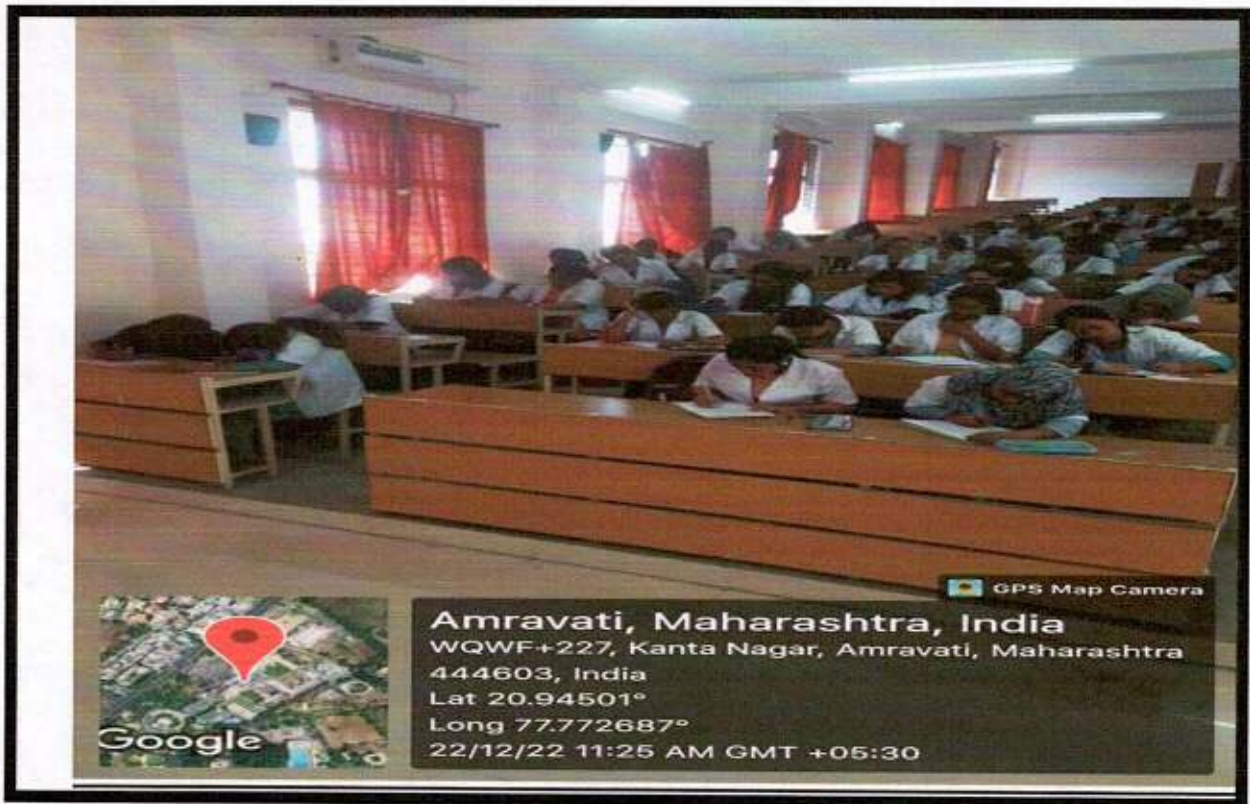

So lastly being a doctor needs to be a good human who will take care of the other human...!!

Perception & Feedback of first year MBBS Students on Foundation Course

Introduction:

One month foundation course has been introduced at the entry-level for first-year MBBS (Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery) students by National Medical Council (NMC) at all the colleges. Purpose is to orient student to national health scenarios, medical ethics, health economics, learning skills & communication, life support, computer learning, sociology & demographics, biohazard safety, environmental issues and community orientation. This also provides an overview in the preclinical subjects.

The selection of the medical students to medical colleges is merit based, so the selection criterion is not taking account of non-cognitive abilities, the entry-level students are in the age group of 17-19 years, at this stage of the transition from high school to a professional course, these students may face certain possible maladjustment to hostel life, food, and instruction in foreign language.

Therefore, it is necessary to develop and implement students' foundation program at the entry level of MBBS program to acclimatize them to campus environment, familiarize with teaching programs, help adapt to the academic challenges as they move from high school into undergraduate programs. Such a structured foundation course would help students coming from a very different learning environment to cope with the vast body of knowledge and skills that are required in the dynamic and rapidly changing health-care system

Objective:

To study the student's feedback on the foundation course in first year MBBS curriculum, which was introduced in the institution as per the recommendations of Medical Council of India for the Foundation course.

Methodology:

The Study will be conducted in Dr. Panjabrao Deshmukh Memorial Medical College after the approval of the Institutional Ethics committee. The study population will be first MBBS student's batch 2022-23 exposed to short foundation course recently. For them classes were taken by the respective preclinical, paraclinical and clinical teachers. Students were made to attend a foundation course over a period of one month. The skills taught include Stress and Time Management, Language, Communication, Introduction to the preclinical subjects, First Aid and Basic life support, Health care system & its delivery, National Health priority & policy, Session on Drug abuse, Examination rule & IAC (International Automotive Component). Also visit were conducted to below places.

- Visit to UHTC (Urban Health & Training Centre)
- Visit to RHTC (Rural Health & Training Centre)
- Visit to Tapovan.

The parameters (questionnaire no) included would be :-

1. Whether the objectives of the session were clearly stated.
2. Whether the objectives of the session were met adequately.
3. Whether the content was tailored to meet the objectives.
4. Whether the presentation was clear and informative.
5. Whether the audio-visual aids were appropriate.
6. Whether adequate time was provided for the program components.
7. Whether the student is encouraged to use what was learned in this program.

All the first year students of batch 2022-23 will be asked to fill the google form of 27 questionnaire. Students will be clarified about parameters included in feedback which may be used for future studies.

Implications:

The main motive of our study is to explore the student's perception, feedback and innovative ideas on foundation course which has been implemented for the MBBS curriculum for the betterment in subsequent academic years. They would be keener to learn the basic sciences if they realize their clinical application in subsequent MBBS phases as well as their future role in society as Indian Medical Graduate. As observed, students were not acquainted with most of the skills except internet skills and time management and thus introducing the foundation course would definitely be supportive to them.
